

PRODUCT MANAGER (f/m/d)

Vienna

About Sodexo and this position

Sodexo Benefits & Rewards Services is market leader for paper-based employee vouchers with the ambition to reinforce this positioning in the card-based (digital) payment environment. BRS Austria has an exciting job opportunity for an experienced Product Manager within the marketing team responsible for the management of card products and digital assets. This versatile job opening holds room for maximum action and involvement to drive the development of the product portfolio and contribute to our future success. The ideal candidate has strong innovation skills, deep understanding of our customers, the ability to build successful value propositions and the drive to see projects through from the planning phase right down to the successful implementation and beyond. The job will include some international exposure by way of supporting product developments in other European countries.

Your main responsibilities will include:

- Managing the digital product and asset portfolio
- Monitoring and analysing the market for new developments, needs and opportunities and preparing appropriate responses
- Acting as the voice of the customer in our three-sided market
- Building value propositions and managing backlog (in terms of prioritisation), compiling all necessary requirements and specifications into detailed descriptions of features and user stories
- Working closely with various departments such as Finance, Legal, IT, Operations, Customer care etc. and competence centres such as the payment excellence team in order to:
 - build business cases
 - ensure legal compliance,
 - co-build sprints & iteration planning and monitor development progresses,
 - analyse and incorporate feedbacks from field tests etc.
- Being in charge of planning, launch and evolutions of (payment-related) digital products (e. g. prepaid cards), features (e. g. mobile payment) as well as assets (e.g. consumer app, client portal etc.) based on customer needs and business value

PRODUCT MANAGER (f/m)

Vienna/fulltime

Your profile

- Several years of experience in product management in fin-techs, payment industry, digital areas
- Consumer-focus
- Payment landscape and regulations understanding is a big plus
- Cultivating innovation
- In-depth knowledge of agile process and principles
- Solid organizational and multitasking skills
- Fluent oral and written German and English
- Business related: business acumen, results orientated, ensures accountability, decision quality
- People related: listening & communication, collaborative approach

Our offer

- Exciting working environment in an international company with a long-term corporate strategy
- Integration in a dynamic and appreciative team
- High level of personal responsibility
- Flexitime, home office and numerous voluntary social benefits (e.g. Sodexo Meal Card, job ticket and much more)
- On the basis of full-time employment we offer an annual gross salary from EUR 50.000,- (depending on experience and qualifications a corresponding overpayment is possible)

Contact

Have we aroused your interest? Then we look forward to receiving your application documents in English at nadine.firmino@sodexo.com!